FRANKFORT—ITS ENVIRONMENT.

"South Side," as the way across the bridge is designated, presents quite a business-like appearance with its added air of attractiveness, caused by the arrival of new people interested in the Capitol erection, and the establishment of various ventures intended for progressive endeavor. The streets are filled with wagons hauling material intended for the new Capitol. Following in the "wake" of the drivers we walk up Second to Main, to be known hereafter as "Capital Avenue," and gradually mount up to the plateau, where a scene of great activity is spread out before us. The foundations for the building are laid deep and wide with every possibility of added greatness when the children of future generations shall point the finger of pride to the magnificent structure, exclaiming: "Behold the epitome of a splendid zeal immortalized in marble and bronze, made glorious with the records of a past, bathed in the blood of patriots!" History shall repeat itself in the generalization of a composite factoring, gathering to itself the records of ages. Art shall become a being of intrinsic worth commensurate with paintings of a superior cut known and loved of all men. Music will embellish her honors—not alone in silent chords of sympathy, but in the sweetest cadences of a perfect harmony; while education shall mount to the pinnacles of acclaim, with the praise and glory accorded to our God!

These prophesies portend upward and onward progression for our grand old Commonwealth. Let her wave the flag of peace; the white emblem of a renewed friendship, so much desired, so much needed and let her teach the children the beauty of reverence; the faithfulness of prayer; the promise of reward held out to those who guard her interests.

Mr. Cotterell, the Superintendent of Construction, is a genial, pleasant gentleman. He very kindly listened to our interrogations and supplied all necessary information as to the early erection and completion of the all-important State Capitol by 1907. So may be it. The ground selected for the site is historic in its every feature, for by some providential guidance the spot designated for the building was once a fort called "Frankfort," erected by the early settlers of Kentucky, and used by them to protect their families from the savage Indians. Afterward used as a place of offense and defense in the Civil war, and filled with memories of the ever recurring past.

This Capitol will fill a long desired want in the hearts of the people of Kentucky, who have so long been on the divided proposition of location. It will unite, by bonds of fraternity, every interest, and with bonds beyond the computation of an individual public, the common weal will receive an impetus remarkable in its progress; permanent in its effects; plausible from every view point!

On every side of this beautiful Capitol ground one can view nature in her perfection. The river winding in its usefulness; the large buildings of various employments; the bridges: North Frankfort and the hills about. Around the curve of which winds the shining tracks of the railroad climbing out of the valley up to higher land. Taking a street car for observation one is impressed with the beauty of tree-bordered streets, beautiful modernized residences, the Second Presbyterian Church (the only building of God in South Frankfort), and is told that no saloon has ever been opened across this line of water. Great recommendation for a home life, this! The Public Schools are located here, and while watching the stream of children pouring from the building, one is deeply impressed with a sense of responsibility resting upon the people of Kentucky, especially Frankfort, and a future of normal training in which the teachers shall receive improved conditions. Prof. Fuqua, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Prof. McKee, Principal of the Schools, and Miss Pettie, Superintendent of County Schools, are all capable, efficient co-operatives who will see to it that the children shall find the highest good in correct conduct and intellectual progress.

This question of education confronts us! It is beyond computation, and appeals to every effort of our being. What shall be done with the children who play "hooky," and the children whose parents think a "little schoolin'" will do for 'em. A gentleman argued with your correspondent the other day relative to compulsory education. He, a competent jurymen, and a good citizen, objected to a law demanding that every child should receive a common school education. Objecting because he believed that it took away the freedom of the taxpayer; the obligation of the parent; the relative proposition of a selfish aggrandizement in behalf of the people in general. It was a new revelation in a parlance of philosophic reasoning. In this enlightened day and generation—to question such a proposition! And yet there are hundreds of these men and women who are stumbling blocks in the way. How shall they be taught that an educated man or a woman possesses tools for accomplishment of a life work that an uneducated person never dreamed of?

Passing the thought of self-instruction, one is brought face to face with a rock-bound prospect along the "river road." Here there was blasting for the rock to macadamize the streets and fill in every depression in building blocks. The street railway runs along this river bank and has brought the smoke and dust of civilization into the pure atmosphere of a quiet solitude. No longer lovers care to walk hand in hand along the river road, and the narrow line of rail is indicative of what the rural populace may expect when the city takes upon herself the airs of a great emporium. But we have slept long enough upon our rights to keep abreast with the inward march of progress. Let us awake with the thought of renewed freedom, of immortal existence, and make of our city a place for the dwelling of peace, and love.

WILLIAMS' Early Risers
The famous little pills.

FROM OUR SAILOR BOY.

New York City.
As I only have about twenty-four hours spare time, I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know I am well and having a good time. Hope when this letter "reaches the boat" it will find you and the rest of the "crew" the same. We went to the Mississippi river and stayed there three days and on the third day "Teddy" Roosevelt came aboard and we left in the morning and had a calm sea, but when we came near Cape Hatteras we all thought "the fire was out." At one time I thought the Falls City had some large waves, but I don't think so now. Several waves came over the ship. She rocked so much if any one had to cross the ship he would have to lay down and as the ship would roll he would slide over. When we would eat we would have to sit in a corner or of ourselves to something so we would not slide. It was most too rough to sleep in our hammocks, so we laid them on deck. In the morning I found myself at one end and my hammock at the other. I thought of the Roundabout Office several times while we were in that mix up. Most all of the new fellows got sick and I laughed at them. In about one hour I commenced to feel funny. Well you know the rest, what happens when a kid gets seasick.

After we passed the Cape, and walking was good, "Teddy" came around and shook hands with most every member of the crew. He looks like all of his pictures and did not have on such swell clothes. Seems to be a nice fellow. He went down in the fire room and shoveled some coal.

I am very glad I was not home on hollow eve or I would have gotten in bad. We are now lying in the North river, at Grant's Tomb, or 127th St., New York. I hear we will lay here about a month and get some repairs and take on about 1,000 tons of coal and all the stores we can and then start out for a three years' cruise. When I get back I will have some new fellows to talk about. At Annapolis, Md., an English fleet joined us with Prince Louis, of Battenberg, on their flag ship. When we dropped anchor he came over to call on our Admiral. He had a few gold medals, etc., and was a good looking man.

We are going to have a good time in this fleet Christmas. Hope you will have the same. As I have told you every thing about my past life, I suppose I had better commence to bring this letter to a close for this time. Hoping to hear from you all some day, I will say good night.

P. S.—I forgot something about that storm. One man was washed overboard on the Colorado. He was a good swimmer, but the race was over the West Virginia was in the lead. I will ring off for this time.

Yours truly,
C. J. SHEETINGER.

TERRIFIC RACE WITH DEATH.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and to-day I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at all druggists; price 50c.

NEW CASHIER.

Mr. J. McH. Craig, the cashier of the Capital Trust Co., having resigned, the Directors met on Wednesday and elected Mr. S. French Hoge to that position. This is a high compliment to a worthy young man.

A CREEPING DEATH.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at all druggists.

BUYS FARM HERE.

Mr. Frank H. Duval, who has been living near Worthville, has purchased 23 acres of land on the river, below this city, from Mr. Graves Hancock, for $1,200.

W. S. FARMER.

SEPARATION OF NORWAY AND SWEDEN.

Affairs in the east have occupied so much of our attention that the breach in the Scandinavian peninsula has not received the consideration it would otherwise claim. The event is really quite significant and may mark an historical era. Sweden and Norway have been united since the year 1814, nearly a century, the union being merely political. Each nation has exercised its own laws and had its own Storting or parliamentary body. The trouble comes about through the disagreement of the two countries upon the tariff question. Norway is largely engaged in fisheries and commerce, two-thirds of her people being interested in these industries. Consequently free trade would be beneficial to Norway. Sweden, on the other hand, is an agricultural country, with mining districts and large manufacturing centers. Naturally she desires a protective tariff, and, in fact, one has been operative in both countries. Some time ago Norway demanded separate consular service. This Sweden refused to grant, on the ground that two consular systems could not be conducted by one department of State with safety. The result was Norway proclaimed herself independent.

The separation has not engendered any hard feeling among either nation. Sweden will remain a kingdom under its wise and enlightened Bernadotte princes, and Norway will assume a democratic government. The two nations will, however, remain in close alliance; this becomes necessary from their position in northern Europe as opposed to Russia, which, now that she has withdrawn from Manchuria, will naturally turn the eyes of her statesmen westward. In the union of Calmar, Sweden, Norway and Denmark were allied, and it may be that a Scandinavian alliance of this nature may yet be brought about. The mutual interests of those three nations certainly makes some sort of a union advantageous.

WILL BURY STEEL INSTEAD OF TWO BODIES.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—During the inquest in the case of John Forkin and Joseph Garcia, laborers, who were killed at the Midvale

Steel Works on November 10, it was testified that the two men had entered a pit and that 80,000 pounds of hot metal poured from a leak and completely absorbed them. Not a trace of the bodies of the men was discovered. The steel company has decided to take about 8,000 pounds of the steel from the place where the men were last seen and have it buried out of respect for the dead workmen. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

DOG LEGISLATION.

Boyle county farmers have taken up the question of sheep-killing dogs, and will ask the next Legislature to enact a law that will probably give some relief. A bill has not been drafted, but the main points to be asked of the Legislature is a law requiring each owner of a dog to pay a specified tax with each county as a unit. The money is to be held by the county treasurer and disbursed by him to the farmers who suffer losses from dogs. The fund thus acquired is to be known as the sheep-killing dog fund.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

This would be a fine law for Franklin county—we could spare about 100,000 cubs.

BELLS ON NEW GARTERS.

But Principal Suspended Giggling Girls Till They Came Back Bell-less.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 16.—For attempting to introduce in Portland what has become a popular fad in New York eight high school girls were suspended by the principal. When the young ladies mounted the high stone steps and climbed the stairs to the study room there was something that attracted the attention of the faculty and caused them to turn a sharp ear.

"Tinkle, tinkle, tinkle," was the sound that came from the invisible somewhere. The principal had heard that the fad was bound westward from New York, but had hardly expected that it would be presented to him for approval. He never said "garter" once, but the eight pupils knew by what he said that he was "wise." They were lined up and movements were required of them that would prove their guilt or innocence. The noise that followed these movements gave him their number, and he then started to dish up some advice.

The principal's lecture was a wealth of blood-chilling compliments, which wound up with orders that the girls should go home, and return only when they came back "bell-less," and prepared to make open apology. Some apologized over the telephone, but the principal replied that telephonic apologies were nil. One mamma tried to tell the principal that the bell fad was a very popular one in New York, but the principal would not listen. His order he declared irrevocable.

FIRST DEATH ON F. & C. RAILWAY.

On Monday afternoon a man by the name of Orla Jacobs, who lived near Sadieville, went to sleep on the track of the F. & C. Railway between Duval Station and Georgetown. The place he chose for his bed was just around a sharp curve in the road. A freight train came along shortly after, and as soon as the man was discovered, every effort was made to stop the train in time to save his life, but in vain. The man never knew what hurt him. The body was taken on to Georgetown and delivered to the corner of Scott county, who held an inquest and a verdict was rendered in accord with the facts. The remains were afterwards delivered to his wife, who was at once notified.

The man had been seen on the streets of Georgetown that morning considerably under the influence of liquor, and it is supposed he started to walk home and became sleepy and lay down with the awful result. Another victim to the liquor curse. No blame can be attached to the railroad men. This is the first fatal accident on the road.

DELEGATION CHICAGO BUSINESS MEN VISIT US.

A delegation, composed of some fifteen members of the Chicago Business Men's Club, came to this city on Monday last on a special car.

They were met at the depot by President Geo. B. Harper and other representatives of the Frankfort Business Men's Club, and escorted to the parlors of the Capital Hotel, where an address of welcome was delivered by Hon. Eli H. Brown, Jr., and also by Rev. C. R. Hudson.

Mr. H. C. Barton, President of the Delegation, responded in an appropriate speech, and then introduced Mr. D. V. Colbert, who also made a graceful address.

After the speech-making the party

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Shattered Nerves and Weak Heart.

Too Nervous to Sleep
or Rest.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

A shattered nervous system nearly always leads to some affection of the heart, especially where the patient's heart is weak from hereditary or other causes. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is not only a great heart regulator, but it is a blood tonic which speedily corrects and regulates the heart's action, enriches the blood and improves the circulation. It will build you up just as it did Mr. Crawford whose letter follows, and greatly improve your general health.

"I have been so greatly benefited by Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure that I freely recommend them as the best remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. When I began taking these medicines I weighed scarcely 120 pounds, my nerves were badly shattered and my heart troubled me a great deal. I had pain in my left arm and shoulder, had difficulty in sleeping on my left side, had frequent smothering spells and was in constant pain. I could not eat scarcely any kind of food without suffering great distress, and was so restless and nervous that I slept little night or day. Now I am never bothered with my heart, my nerves are steady as a die, I sleep well, eat well and weigh 160 pounds. I am happy now and am trying to make back the money I spent for doctors who did me no good while I was ill."—J. R. CRAWFORD, Center, Texas.

were given a trolley ride to the new Capital grounds and other points of interest about the city.

At noon they were dining at the Capital Hotel, and spent the afternoon looking over the city.

At 4:20 p. m. they left for Lexington, expressing themselves as highly pleased with their trip up to the present.

EVERY OUNCE YOU EAT.

Every ounce of food you eat that fails to digest does a pound of harm. It turns the entire meal into poison. This not only deprives the blood of the necessary tissue-building material, but it poisons it. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It digests the food regardless of the condition of the stomach. It allows that organ to rest and get strong again. Relieves Belching, Heart Burn, Stomach, Indigestion, Flatulence of the Heart, etc. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

NEW MANAGER ELECTRIC LINE.

Mr. John D. Sallee, of Lexington, who has been an employee of the electric lines of that city for ten years, and recently train dispatcher for the Interurban Lines, has been appointed Superintendent and Manager of the Frankfort and Versailles Interurban Line and the city street car line for this city.

Mr. Sallee relieves Mr. John T. Buckley. He is said to be a first-class, live, up-to-date man, especially well qualified for the position to which he has been appointed.

Mr. Sallee came here on Monday, at once took charge and made a general inspection of the line now in operation.

We welcome him to our city and hope that he may soon have the line running in a systematic way, such as will accommodate the community in all its interests.

BIRD LAW OUT.

On Wednesday last, November 15, the law forbidding the killing of partridges expired and the season will be open from now until January 1. It is lawful now to shoot rabbits. Heretofore the latter could only be taken in traps or snares.

It is said that both "Bob White" and "Molly Cottontail" are very plentiful this year. They had better hunt their holes now, however.

TEACHERS OF COMMON SCHOOLS RECEIVE PAY.

State Treasurer Bosworth sent out the checks to pay the salaries of the common school teachers on Tuesday. The rest of the allotment will be paid in January next. This is glad news for these poorly paid servants of the public.

"HOGWALLOW KENTUCKIAN."

We are in receipt of a humorous publication known as "The Hogwallow Kentuckian," printed at Mayfield, Ky. It is a darling.

NOW WILL YOU BE GOOD?

Just listen at the following from Mayor Darnell! The query arises why was not this done long ago, if it could be so easily accomplished now?

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 18.
Y. D. Mangum, Chief of Police:
Dear Sir—I congratulate you for so well carrying out the orders for yesterday—the first attempt. It is always hard to get everything together at first. There were several saloons yesterday that kept their doors and window blinds down all day. Now I know what that means. So have your men tell them that they must have all blinds up. The hall over the saloon on Clinton street, near Long Lane Alley, was not to be closed at night. Notify the grocers and merchants that they must comply with this order. The drug stores must sell nothing but drugs.

Yours truly,
J. S. DARNELL.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 11.
Y. D. Mangum, Chief of Police,
Frankfort:

Dear Sir—Gambling of every kind must be suppressed in accordance with the laws taken by yourself and men some time since. Hayden, A. D. Brown, Norman and Johnson have not taken their oaths. So send them to jail to be sworn.

You can have one of your patrolmen notify the gamblers that everything must stop at once and their devices moved from the rooms, or it will be confiscated and destroyed. Tell them that sections 1960 to 1980 and 5784 of the Kentucky Statutes will be enforced to the letter. The Craw drives must be turned into decent rooms and loading about them will be dealt with according to law.

J. S. DARNELL.
ARRESTED FOR POUNDING
HIS WIFE.

One Charles Moore, a colored man, was arrested, on Tuesday, charged with beating, cutting and gouging his wife. It seems that in a family quarrel Moore beat his wife, nearly cut her ear off and gonged her eye so that she will probably lose the sight of that member. Mayhem is a felony, punishable by confinement in the Prison. Officer Harrod made the arrest.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Action of the Spine Frankfort Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many Frankfort women know this.

Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. Margaret Weitzel, of 318 Mero St., wife of Lucas Weitzel, baker by trade, now retired, says: For a number of years I suffered from a persistent aching across the small of my back and through the kidneys. At times my back was so bad that I could hardly sit still, get up or down, or lift anything even of ordinary weight. At night it bothered me so that I could not rest comfortably and when I first arose in the morning I felt tired and worn out, the kidney secretions were irregular, the urine colored and distressing, and on standing deposited a heavy sediment. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, procured a box at J. W. Gayle's drug store and began to use them. In a few days I noticed that the secretions had assumed a natural appearance, the pains and aches left me and I felt as well as ever after completing the treatment. Nothing pleased me more than to speak a word in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills.

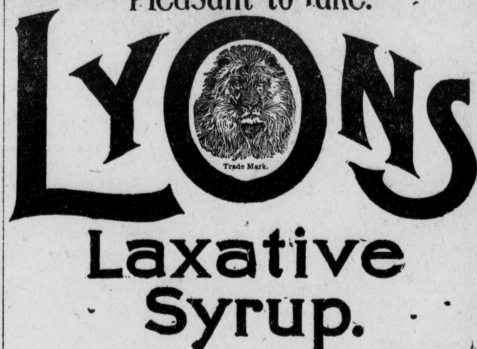

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Rubens Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. From expectoration night morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweats. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 50c. At all druggists.

EDUCATIONAL.

Value of Education.

The average educated man gets a salary of $1,000 a year. He works forty years, making a total of $40,000 in a lifetime. The average day laborer gets $1.50 a day 300 days a year, or $450 a year. In forty years he can save $18,000. The difference, or $22,000, equals the value of an education. To acquire this earning capacity requires twelve years at school of 180 days each, or 2,160 days. Divide $22,000 by 2,160, and it is found that each day at school is worth a little more than $10 to the pupil.—Selected.

EDUCATION AND PROSPERITY.

"An ignorant people not only is, but must be, a poor people. They must be destitute of sagacity and providence, and, of course, of competence and comfort. The proof of this does not depend upon the lessons of history, but on the constitution of nature. No richness of climate, no spontaneous productivity of soil, no facilities for commerce, no stores of gold or of diamonds, can confer, even worldly prosperity upon an uneducated nation. Such a nation can not create wealth of itself; and whatever riches may be showered upon it will run to waste. Within the last four centuries the people of Spain have owned as much silver and gold as all the other nations of Europe put together; yet, at the present time, poor indeed is the people who have less than they. The nation which has produced more of the raw material and manufactured from it more fine linen than all contemporary nations, is to-day the most ragged and squalid in Christendom."—Horace Mann.

"The blind see, the deaf hear, the lame walk," is the best illustration of this subject by the master hand. No page of history will ever shine so bright that this diamond will not lend it luster.

All are blind to that which they can not see, deaf to what they can not hear, and lame to all they can not attain.

The illy comes to the pink of perfection by using for its growth every drop of dew, every breath of air and every shaft of light that comes. It is an example of success in its line. The splendor and glory of Solomon could not match it. There is as much life in a dark, tangled, chaotic jungle as there is in a modern city. The life in the jungle is blind, deaf, lame; in the city it sees, hears, moves. The same in kind, but different in degree.

Seeing, hearing, walking, is life "more abundantly." Death is the cutting of every wire that communicates with the central office of life. One dim eye, dull ear, lame foot, are just as many wires down. When they are all down, the eld falls with a dull, dull thud upon the coffin lid.

True education is the work of true educators. They teach how to "make it life to live"—not how to turn stones into bread. Colleges and universities may rumble into dust, but such men shall live forever.

"These shall resist the empire of decay. When time is a'or, and worlds have passed away; Cold in the dust the perished heart may lie, But 'at which warmed it once can never die."

There are in Ken ucky to-day a thousand schools without teachers; there are thousands of schools being taught by untrained teachers; and there are hundreds of thousands of "children" growing up in ignorance and vice without attending any school whatever. The crying need of our State to-day is a sufficient corps of Normally Trained teachers. At present, almost any person of good moral character and a certificate may be put in charge of the training of the children, although he would not be considered competent to train a bird dog or a colt. To train these valuable animals requires special training and a practical knowledge of their nature and characteristics, as well as of the methods best adapted to their development and training. Without this knowledge upon the part of the trainer, a valuable dog or colt may be ruined. Of course, the same thing may happen to the child in the hands of an untrained teacher, but it must be remembered that there is a vast difference between a fine English Pointer or a Thoroughbred Kentucky Roadster and a mere child (2).

How long will the pride of Kentuckians remain dormant in the matter of Education? How long will we allow the mass of our growing citizens to remain deaf, dumb and blind to the best there is in life? How long will we withhold the best educational advantages from the country people, just because trained teachers cost more than untrained teachers?

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless. Positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

WOMEN AND BEES.

Many smart and enterprising women nowadays are making money, and a good deal of it, by breeding and selling queen bees. The commodity is one for which there is steady demand, and when it is considered that the insects fetch from $1 to $5 apiece, it is easily seen that there is profit in the business. One young lady in Beville, Tex., is said to have raised 2,000 queen bees last summer by her own unaided efforts. The industry is of a kind specially suited to the aptitudes of the gentler sex, inasmuch as the labor involved is light and pleasant, and can be performed at home in the intervals of ordinary household duties.

The average woman unacquainted with bees is afraid to handle them, for fear of being stung. But there is really no danger, if she will take the trouble to learn a bit of the "know how." Indeed, she may obtain without much difficulty some of the nonstinging bees from the Caucasus, which are not being brought to this country for the first time. They come from the region between the Black and the Caspian seas in Russian territory, and their temper is so mild that, though tumbled about as if they were so many beans, they show no resentment. It is not even necessary to wear gloves or a bee veil when disturbing them in their hives.—Rene Rache, in Hyerson's American Family Magazine.

MADDER CASE DECIDED.

CARE OF THE HANDS.

Every one admires beautiful hands, and a few hints as to their proper care will be acceptable, perhaps. After one gets them in good condition it is no difficult to keep them so, and a few minutes each day will be sufficient to do the work. In the first place a housekeeper should wear gloves whenever her work permits her to do so.

Let them be loose so as not to impede her movements. Soft kid gloves that men of the house have cast aside are excellent. Cut off the tips of the fingers and wear them while sweeping, dusting and paring fruit or vegetables. Even the dish washer may protect her hands in this way if she uses a dish mop and a soap shaker. The first requisites for successful manouring is warm soft water and good soap. Ivory soap is, on account of its purity, good for toilet purposes and is also economical. Pour the water into a basin, make a nice suds, and after soaking the hands a few minutes wash them thoroughly. Rinse in soft water and rub them dry with a soft towel. Remove any dirt that remains under the nails with a nail file or a piece of orangewood. Trim off any loose flesh at the sides of the nail with sharp scissors, pressing the flesh back from the base smoothly and firmly. The nails should be shaped in a pointed oval and polished until quite smooth. After washing them at night smooth them with a mixture composed of equal parts of glycerine and rose water or use cold cream, rubbing it well into the skin, and put on a pair of soft kids. A week or two of such care will improve and beautify the roughest hands.

The City Council, at its meeting on Monday night, changed the name of Main street, South Side, to Capital Avenue.

GOOD FOR THE NEW MANAGER.

Mr. J. D. Sallee, the new manager of the Frankfort and Versailles Traction Co., announces that hereafter the street cars will be present at the close of all performances at the Opera House. "This ought to have been the case long ago."

BIG WILL CASE COMPROMISED.

The contest over the will of the late Mr. Frank B. Harper, in the Woodford Circuit Court, which was to have been commenced on Tuesday, was compromised on Monday evening. The property in contest was valued at $175,000. The nature of the compromise was not stated. Harper's sisters were the contestants.

THE BREATHITT ELECTION.

The election in Breathitt provided a veritable Waterloo for the Hargis faction. Judge James Hargis was defeated for County Judge by S. S. Taulbee by a majority of 705, and the other candidates on the Fusion ticket were elected by majorities ranging from 556 to 719. "The Hargis ticket did not save even a Constable in the entire county. It was at first announced that the Hargis crowd would contest, but the majority is so overwhelming this seems to have been abandoned. Certificates of election have been issued to all of the successful candidates. The end of misrule in Breathitt county has come and the power of Hargis is gone. Praise be to the Lord.—Mt. SOME GOOD USES OF THE ACORN.

The acorn is very valuable for both man and beast. In ancient times, and even in modern days, the mast was regarded as the most valuable product of the oak.

In Germany large herds of swine feed upon acorns in the great oak forests, and in the royal forests of England the neighboring villagers claim the ancient right of pannage, so their hogs are turned into the woods in October and November.

In times of dearth, both the English and French boiled the acorns as a substitute for bread and potatoes.

Many Americans use them as potatoes. They pour boiling water over the acorns and let them stand until they swell. The shells are then removed and the acorns are parboiled to free them from that acrid taste. When they become mealy they are seasoned with butter, pepper and salt.

The first settlers of Boston subsisted for a time upon acorns and other fruits of the forest.

In Britain there are several varieties of oak which bear sweet fruit. These trees are valued very highly by the inhabitants.

As a medicine, the acorn also has its value, especially as a blood purifier.

In Germany it is used very freely in cases of scurfiness.

The shells are removed and the acorns are roasted and ground like coffee. A decoction is made and drank for breakfast with cream and sugar.

Next to the acorn in value, or more so, is the bark of the oak tree which, from a very remote period has been used in tanning, and from the days of Dioscorides, the oak bark has been used as a medicine, the white oak being preferable for internal uses.

Made into a decoction it was used as a gargle for all throat trouble, and particularly in ulcerated sore throat; also, it was administered in cases of dysenteric hemorrhages.

Practitioners regard it as a safeguard against consumption, for tanners were known to be exempt from that disease.

A poultice made of the powdered oak bark and applied to external gangrene and mortification has proved beneficial when other remedies failed.

In cases where the patient's stomach is too weak to retain food and medicine the decoction is used as a bath which gives the invalid great strength.

In intermittent and typhoid fever, diarrhoea and cholera infantum this decoction is most beneficial as a tonic and astringent when the patient is frequently sponged with it.

It has also been used as an injection in cases of dropsy. The decoction was injected into the dropsical cyst with beneficial results.

The infusion is also used as a wash for flabby sores and ulcers.

The bark may be used in the form of a powder, extract or decoction.

The dose of the powder is about thirty grains to a drachm; about half as much of the extract and two fluid ounces of the decoction. Three doses for adults.

In Oregon, from the Columbia river southwards, the woods abound with oak trees resembling the British oak. These trees produce acorns in great quantities, which are used by the Indians as food.

HOW TO SET THE COLOR.

It is impossible to tell whether a color is fast before washing, but by far the safest plan is to "set" the color before it goes to the tub for the first time.

One of the best methods of setting delicate colors consists in simply making a strong brine of cold water and salt, and soaking the garment from twelve to twenty-four hours.

Of course, this should be done just before going to the laundry, and the salt should not be allowed to dry in it. This is especially good for all shades of pink and green, and colors once set this way will be bright as long as it would be possible to expect it.

A strong solution of alum and water is good, particularly with blues and the more delicate shades of brown; but its effect is not so lasting as that of salt, and it is sometimes necessary to renew the bath after the first three or four washings.

BAPTISTS TO RALLY AT BUCK RUN.

Local Baptists are interested in a two days' rally and meeting which will be held at the Buck Run Church, at Forks of Elkhorn, on the first Saturday and Sunday in December. Rev. M. B. Adams, Rev. L. D. Stucker and other prominent members of this denomination in the city will take part in the program.

These meetings are missionary in character, and usually result in an awakening of the membership.

CLOSED UP SUNDAY.

Frankfort was a "dry town" Sunday last under the orders of Mayor Darnell. If it could be "dry" one Sunday, why can it not be all Sundays?

TO PLANT NEW FORESTS.

In the old days wood was burned by the engines of the Galena & Chicago Union Railroad, the parent company of the present Chicago & Northwestern System. At one of the annual meetings of this parent company, President Van Nortwick announced to the stockholders that he had bought a certain woodland at Elgin, Illinois, now little more than a suburb of Chicago, and that he felt like congratulating the company that this wood tract would forever secure sufficient fuel for the company's locomotives. Some years after, when the Chicago & Northwestern was perfected, the attention of one of the officers was called to President Van Nortwick's statement. This officer made a rapid computation, which showed that the Elgin woodland would not furnish kindling wood enough for the road's locomotives for even a single year. Which suggests the fact that the annual consumption of railroad ties alone in the United States is 120,000,000, or fully one-sixth of the total cut of timber. In addition to this there are vast drains upon the forest for telegraph and telephone poles and for cross arms, and for timbers for railroad construction. At the present rate of forest destruction the United States within forty years will be absolutely denuded of merchantable timber.

MAUDE ADAMS A TREE PLANTER.

Maude Adams is credited by the daily press with a deeper insight into the needs of the future than the railroad presidents, for she is stated to have planted upon her Long Island property a hundred thousand locust trees which will make the very best and most lasting telegraph poles and railroad ties. The suggestion is made that the railroads plant tie and pole timber along their thousands of miles of right of way which would furnish an inexhaustible timber supply on the spot. The wisdom of planting rights of way to trees is questionable. In these days of fast trains nothing is more dangerous to those who must drive over railroad crossings than to have the view of the track obscured by trees. For a long distance on either side of every crossing the right of way should present a clear view.

As a matter of fact the railroads have given a good deal of consideration to lumber supplies; the spectre of a timber famine is prominently before them and is a recognized apparition. Ten years ago only the soundest trees were accepted; seconds and thirds were promptly thrown out by the purchasing agents. To-day these are all utilized. A few years ago red oak, black oak, beech, gums, pines and other soft woods were considered useless.

GREAT OBJECT LESSON TO FARMERS.

It is very doubtful if any railroad will ever be able to plant trees in sufficient number to secure its entire supply of cross-ties; but the planting experiments made by the railroads will tend to stimulate land owners holding land along the right of way to plant their waste or unproductive lands with trees which will produce tie timber and thus furnish the railroad with a supply of ties in the future.

The annual tie consumption of the Pennsylvania Railroad alone is about 3,850,000 ties, to produce which about 12,500 acres must be cut.

In many cases the question of the production of the railroads will undoubtedly be solved by the proper management of existing tracts of forest land which the roads now own or may acquire rather than by any extensive scheme of forest planting.

The Forest Service several years ago began a study of the forest plantations which had been made in this country, and as a result of his study, a scheme of co-operation with land owners and others, was devised whereby the Forest Service gives practical assistance and advice in establishing commercial plantations, shelterbelts, windbreaks, etc. This assistance is usually embodied in a planting plan, which enumerates the kinds of trees to be planted upon any given planting site, and gives instructions for the preparation of the ground and for the spacing and setting of young trees. Advantage has been taken of the assistance offered and hundreds of planting plans have been made for farmers, who have planted wood lots, shelter belts and windbreaks with success in accordance with the directions furnished by the Forest Service.

MILLIONS OF PLANTABLE ACRES.

There are millions of acres in the United States to-day in private ownership which are not adapted to farming, but which would pay a handsome return on the investment if planted to trees and systematically cared for as a forest plantation. When the trees have once reached a period of growth which gives them a marketable value, intelligent management, cutting each year only a portion of the timber and allowing for reforestation, would make such forest plantations a source of revenue as long as the country continues to be inhabited by men.

SAVED BY DYNAMITE.

Sometimes a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes a cough hangs on so long you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cures for bronchitis and influenza. At all druggists, price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

NEW WINTER RESORT, SEASON 1905-1906.

The Beautiful Sapphire Country.

To the man whose imagination is fed with facts and fortified with observation, the southern portion of the United States will always seem the favorite child of omnipotence and its handmaiden—Nature. Practically every resource that ministers to the wealth and greatness of a people has been lavishly placed within its borders. Though the Creator of this full-bodied magnificence dwells here, here he is not—everywhere we like, in all reverence, to call these Southern States indeed "God's country." One who knows the South realized how after material gifts had been so generously bestowed, the designing power completed its work by defining it liberally with those imperative auxiliaries of modern civilization—resorts, summer and winter. In the case of the South these resorts have proven not only protectors of our people's health; they are adding now and they will add substantially in the future to our actual wealth.

The Florida resorts need no detailed eulogy at this date. They have won already thousands of wealthy Northerners and Southerners from the lure of the European spa or the call of the Riviera. A more wonderful conquest, and one which should interest the entire South, is that of the radiant Sapphire country, that of Eden of the North Carolina mountains, with which the "Toxaway" has become inseparably identified. Its beauties and its health-compelling qualities have been open to civilization for only a few years, relatively; yet "Toxaway" means to a host of Southern and Northern people to-day recreation and recuperation under conditions as ideal as can be arranged by the co-operation of man and Nature.

The six hotels under the management of the Toxaway Hotel Company, with Mr. J. C. Burrows at its head, have been instrumental in this rapid achievement. The Sapphire country itself has done the rest. The hostilities have been artfully located, getting the wide benefits which come from altitudes ranging from 2,250 to 4,750 feet. The far-reaching estate of Toxaway comprises 31,000 acres, in which are more than seven-thirty miles of brook and river fishing, yielding the gamest of game trout. In the rugged recesses of the estate there are deer, wild turkey and ruffed grouse, with bear here and there and occasionally quail. The three lakes, like shimmering sapphires splashed down in the heart of the mountains, with the winding forest roads, create indelible impressions of the place.

With the opening of the winter season Toxaway Inn—the greatest of all the Toxaway resorts—announces itself ready for business for the approaching season after having completed the most successful summer season known in the history of Southern resorts. From this time on this institution becomes not only a summer but a winter resort, appealing to the South in the summer and to the North in winter. It is on the direct line of travel from eastern and western points to Florida, and Manager Burrows has made every arrangement to catch the business as it goes to and comes from Florida.

And it is safe to say that those who stop to take in the beauties of the Toxaway country will be amply compensated, for in the matter of the attractions there is nothing like it this side of the Rocky Mountains.—Constitution, Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12, 1905. 9-3t.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
